POLISH

L A N G U A G E

Polish has always been strongly influenced by other languages, due to colonization and because of its geographical location. Polish phonetics is very difficult and there are many sounds that do not exist in Italian.

Here are some characteristics of this language that we need to know before we try our hand at learning Polish.

- The Polish language has no articles.
- In the singular there are three genders: masculine, feminine and neuter.
- There are seven cases: nominative, genitive, dative, accusative, instrumental, locative and vocative.
- There are three tenses: past, present and future.
- There are also three verbal modes: indicative, conditional, and imperative.
- Many of the best works and pillars of international literature and cinema are of Polish provenance.

Knowledge of the language will allow you to enjoy the original works without the mediation of translations, which sometimes cause significant loss of meaning.

We at ReSOLT offer excellent learning environment as we have a team of experienced trainers who take care of everything. Students and working professionals can learn Polish in Mumbai with ReSOLT. You can also enroll for online Polish language courses in Mumbai or Polish language classes in Mumbai to learn with the ReSOLT's top notch trainers.

Certification Tests

We prepare you for Polish Certification Exams known as State Certificate Examinations in Polish as a Foreign language, where you are judged on skills like Listening, Writing, Hearing & Speaking. We have intermediate and final tests after every course based on standard exam pattern.

There are currently three levels of examinations set according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages, namely, B1, B2 and C2. The State Certification Commission is at the meantime working on the introduction of examinations for the remaining levels (A1, A2 and C1).[1] This is the only state document that could confirm one's proficiency in Polish.[2]

Dear Team ReSOLT,

I take pleasure in sharing with you that team Shubham who had opted to learn the basics of English Communication, under the guidance of tutor Rohan Gomes, has benefitted a lot.

With an overall learning journey of approximately 4 months, some of the team members have actually shown the primary indicators of transition as we see some positive changes in their grooming, language skills and behaviour as well as written communication.

The process adopted to impart the skills was found to be cohesive to the learning style of the participants. The tutor has ensured that the students do practice the learnings via various modes of self-study / exercises / assignments.

The management of Shubham Pharmaceuticals sincerely appreciates the efforts taken to make this learning experience soothing and seamless.

Overall the collaboration with ReSOLT was positive and professional.

We look forward to the long term association with ReSOLT and will surely look as one of the key training partners for team Shubham.

Thank you and wishing team ReSOLT the very best for their future endeavours.
